

SPRING

Remember...

When you waltzed across the room
Stole my heart and made it bloom
I was yours and you were mine

Where does the time go?
It melts with the snow

One by one the children came
You worked hard to stake your claim
Endless nights and trips away
I couldn't make you stay
You had your own way

But in the spring you'd come again
Lift your eyes, meet mine and then

Mmmmmm
Mm

It's the ties that bind and last
Forgiveness can erase the past
With each spring, resting seeds will crack
Bringing the laughter back

Hopeful blossoms grow and bloom
Bringing me back, bringing me back to that room

Once more
